

How to transfer your license from GHMS

Posted by Slav2 - 2010/05/28 04:47

You dont need to create manual orders on macrolab website if you purchased SM before 8th of the may.

You orders should be available here.

Please visit account maintenance and look if you have your order here. If status of the order "Confirmed" or "Shipped" you should see your licenses ready to use in license distribution page.

If status of the order "Pending" or "Cancelled" you should write me email and ask to activate your license.

If you have no orders here, then you should create new manual order and write me e-mail with information:

- nickname on GHMS website
- what is the order number you had on GHMS.
- what is the date when you made order
- nickname on macrolabs website
- if you created manual order then I need order number only

=====