Check manual how to name your bookmarks properly. I think you have your belt bookmark in station's position.

If I understood you wrong, create log file and send it to my mail. How to record it in the link in my signature.

ok but i have 3 problems , firts problem I do not select the right character even when changing between main / right / left and select I manual , the second menu item and select too small and I have to maximize it manually ,and the third is the most important when it comes into the station does not empty and the bot does not do anything more.Now as soon as possible'll send the logs by email.

edit: i send log ,then I found another problem the game goes, I hope that you find out from the logs

What is the correct character position? It is a position of a character when you have default settings (EULA screen will appear). Easiest way to detect default position is to start first run and check what is the position of a character when bot login to the account for the first time. Pause bot with control + p and close eve and bot. Set default position in bot's settings and restart first run.

Did not understand what is the menu item. Make a screen.

About third problem. I have replied to your mail and asked to send me screen. Looks like some artifact in your eve client. Check if you have any windows under eve online window and close all of them (widgets, gadgets etc).

Need to redo first run with correct character. You may not switch character after you made in-game settings for another character during first run. If you see that first run started to make settings for wrong char need to stop it and correct character position. Then restart first run.
