

how do I run non-caldari FW?

As title says how do I run non-caldari FW? I add Gallente Federation to the input and it does not save it. I type in Gallente Federation and it still tries to fly to Jita.

Bot is moving to refit station. You can define refit station in Gallente space. If you want better answer, show log file as per link in my signature. I will see what is going on.

p.s. Just tested, bot UI works normally. If you select gallente and restart bot, you see gallente as a selection.

I didn't realize there was a drop down box for the selected type. I just fixed if I select Gallente it would fly to dodixie to refit since that is Gallente space and safer if enrolled in Gallente FW. Flying to Jita caldari space while enlisted in Gallente seemed like it would cause extra deaths; I didn't make it 3 jumps out of Jita and was podded. Don't FW on the weekends as more people tend to do FW then gonna have to stock up on fittings if you gonna make a refit station outside of a trade hub...I just had to turn off FW and go back to mining. I've been PK'ed 7times so far today trying to FW. The kid's are out in force trying to pad that zkill board stats

Best option in my opinion is to install refit station in low sec. Most of kills occur on low sec entrance from high sec. Just make sure refit station is outside of FW systems to be able to dock in the future.

I changed refit to dodixie since I'm galleente that should slow some of the travel deaths down how is it looking for additional default fittings to be added? Can we get a T1 Tristan default for day one alpha's? T1/T2 punisher and maybe some destroyers?

You cannot have 5 drones out on alfa day one. Default fit is working fit with not so rare/expensive components. I have compared several fits and tristan drone fit seems the best for novice/small complexes. I removed two other fits as losing in profit to tristan fit.
