

Auto trade doesn't put sell orders

Posted by lol1234 - 2020/09/11 08:56

Hello,

I'm using auto trader, but the bot only install buy orders.
It doesn't put any sell orders even tho i now have billions of items in hangar.

Isn't the bot supposed to automatically put both buy and sell orders when you have items in hangar ?

Items are sold if you have enough items to sell (min order volume = 10m) and order installation is profitable (or you better sell items directly to existing buy orders). I assume you started bot with low ISKs and did not decrease max orders in settings, so bot could not collect enough items to sell? To sell all staff without 10m check tick bulk seller. Bot will not install new buy orders but sell existing staff. Figure out how much orders you can use to create ~50m orders. I may in principle add some additional check for people who has not so much ISKs to avois this situation. But the idea of trade bot to be more profitable when other bot types (courier, trader). Bot can double your funds every month (need perfect trader although). If you spend 1.35b for 500 PLEXs minimal ISKs you need is 2b. Otherwise better to use courier or faction warfare bot thx for the answer, i was away from website aswell. :)

Hello,

I started with around 3b isk and i had to tick bulk seller for bot to put sell orders. Now i'm sitting at around 12b and it seems to now put sell orders by itself which is good.

Now my issue is that bot won't automatically get items from TTT. It shows an error message that cargohold volume set in bot settings is incorrect, i have put a value of 100000 and i fly a freighter.
