If I started at 100b, will there be 4x (or ~5%/day) profit? or it has maximum capital value

I want to know that as well. I want to know whether if I should wait for my capital to grow slowly (right now at 6 bil) or plex the character and have a large capital right away.

I have 100b as capital and never make less than 1.7b a day using AT with 305 orders, skills at 5, standing both at 9+ while using wealthy mode

1. The 1.7 b is the pure profit or total sales value?.
 2. What about not using wealthy mode? Since we do not have too much faction standing.
 3. How does the A/T operate on your wallet? Does it use all your wallet to purchase buy orders and invest in new items? Or split half of the incoming profit into two, one for free cash/pocket money, and one for future investment/buy orders.

How is this even a question? Have you 100bn? Of course it doesn't matter how much ISK you have to start with.

Have no ideas. Max funds I had was 70 bills abd used standard trader with about 60 items in the order installer list. Account was banned as soon as I sold all items at once, so be careful and use real payment method for this account. Subscribers are rarely perma banned for the first rime.

Interesting....I was banned today as soon as I cleared Trader of all my orders and sold everything in my inventory like 3bil worth of items. I sold them all at one time. Banned less than 60seconds after sell all... They then banned the rest of my accounts right after that.

reading these statements about getting banned with so small amounts on isk on the account makes me wonder if the auto trader is too dangerous to use. sounds like ccp knows exactly what to look for

Don't just trade. Activate courier interface and run missions for 20-40 minutes, activate Planet Interaction and Project discovery addons (they work during idle timer). Place some BPO to make copies or research manually. Open your activity tracker. Check what else you can do to make it more or less symmetrical. CCP will fail to detect bots with multiple activities in game. They are looking for bot farms mostly.

If you mask your IP dont use cheap vpn as cheap vpns used by our fellows from Russia and Ukraine for bot farms. Find some service from 10+ google search page. If you have several bots don't run them from the same IP route.

I still want to know why would CCP ban an account for selling all your items? I have been cleaning house with legit accounts that arent botting and I am wondering what their rationale is for doing that?

Been using the bots off Slav for years never had one account banned.
Did a clear out last month with a "sell all" no ban.
The trader bots work for CCP, it offers the lowest prices to buy and the best prices to sell for players.
No one could manually do 300 orders so why have the skill ?

I think CCP might be on the lookout for stolen accounts. The first thing someone does with a stolen account is sell EVERYTHING (cheap and fast) and then jack the SP so CCP may have a safety feature that looks for massive dumping. After that they take a look at the account closely. This is all just a guess though
